

Entropy and Sacrifice

The law that levels everything down, and the one way out of it he gives: sacrifice, the transformation of an inferior force into a superior one, of desire, of suffering, of the self, of a life and of a world, in his own words, from all fifty-two books and the transcribed lectures

Every word here is his. Nothing has been paraphrased, joined or improved. Each passage was cut out of the book or the lecture it belongs to by reference, and each carries that source and the paragraph it came from (and, where he was speaking, the name of the lecture), so anything on this page can be found again in the source.

First the law. "Entropy is an involutive, descending law of an equalizing and degenerating character." The first part is what it levels: people, the mind, the Earth and the Moon.

Then the way out, which he gives in one sentence. "We already know that only through transformation is it possible to overcome the Law of Entropy because transformation includes sacrifice; that is ostensible." The second part is what sacrifice is, and why it cannot be painless: "Sacrifice itself is painful." And what it does: "Yes, when an inferior force is sacrificed for the sake of a superior one, there is transformation."

The third part is what to sacrifice. The sexual impulse, the defects, "If one sacrifices anger, the precious gem of meekness will appear", and, hardest of all, our own sufferings: "If one begins by sacrificing his sufferings, he can take a great step and overcome the Law of Entropy." "We have to offer everything," he says, absolutely everything.

The fourth is the pattern, in the Christ and the Logos who give themselves: "Christ himself sacrificed himself on Golgotha to overcome the Law of Entropy." The fifth is the sacrifice for humanity, the third factor of the revolution of the consciousness, and the sacrifice the Earth itself must make.

1 What can I tell you about entropy?

He begins with something anyone can see: hot and cold water left side by side until both are the same. Here he names entropy as a descending, equalizing law and shows the disorder it leaves behind.

And what can I tell you about entropy? It's something that's in plain sight. If you put a pot of hot water next to a pot filled with cold water, you will see how entropy precipitates. There's an exchange of the heat and the cold, and finally entropy triumphs and both are equalized.

Entropy is an involutive, descending law of an equalizing and degenerating character. Why does it mean transformation in Greek? Well, it's correct! It has another meaning—the Law of Entropy cannot be overcome without transformation; that's obvious. But we in the West (strictly speaking, in the modern world) don't use the word transformation for entropy. We say it must be overcome with transformation, and we know that transformation only takes place through the sacrifice of an inferior force for the sake of a superior one.

Well, I don't like to be dividing words so much. But in any case, it's a Greek word that means transformation. In Greek, it means transformation.

The twins Castor and Pollux invite us to reflection. It is in fact known that in nature, manifested matter and the occult energy symbolized in the heat, light, electricity, the chemical energies and other superior ones which are still unknown to us, always process themselves in an inverse manner and the appearance of one presupposes the entropy or disappearance of the other; no less and no more than the mysterious brothers Castor and Pollux, a symbol of such a phenomenon among the Greeks. They alternately lived and died in the same manner that matter and energy anywhere are alternately born and die, appear and disappear.

Esoteric Treatise of Hermetic Astrology, 1967

On the other hand, everything is different with transformation; with transformation, order is produced, an atomic order.

The process of Gemini is vital in Cosmo-genesis. The original earth was a sun that gradually condensed at the expense of a nebulous ring when, by irradiation or cooling down, the first solid film of our globe was determined by means of the chemical phenomenon of dissipation or entropy of the energy which constitutes the gross states of matter which we call solid and liquid.

In the long run, there's disorder with entropy. Isn't there? As we see in the atoms and molecules of a cadaver, there's disorder. There's disorder in a library, for example, if it's not cleaned, if order isn't established, book upon book, paper upon paper, keep piling up, and in the long run it's chaos that nobody understands, disorder. On the other hand, everything is different with transformation; with transformation, order is produced, an atomic order. There's something that's always left me thinking— we find order in any molecule of the universe. There's order in the petals of a flower, there's order in the ions and electrons of an atom. Obviously, if there's order in an atom or molecule, it means there's an ordering force because I couldn't conceive of order in a molecule of copper or starch without an ordering force.

Transcribed lectures ·Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

Now, an ordering force must be an intelligent force because I could not believe, I could never accept, that an ordering force could arise by chance because chance is not intelligent. Now, if chance is capable of producing that ordering force, undoubtedly, that chance ceases to be chance and becomes an intelligent principle.

So, by exact logic we can say the directing, ordering principle of all that is, has been, and will be, is the Creator Demiurge. Only that marvelous, ordering force that brought the universe into existence can realize extraordinary transformations. But if one does not use that ordering force, the Law of Entropy gradually produces disorder of the molecules, disorder of the atoms, disorder of the mind, disorder of psychological principles, and thus we all end up equalized, converted into something that has not the least importance. That is the crude reality of the facts.

11 Haven't you noticed how the Law of Entropy equalizes people?

He shows how the law works on people who do not work on themselves. Thoughts sink, emotions darken, the will weakens, and in the end rich and poor are made the same.

Millions of people today, for example, are stuck on the path of entropy. Since they don't work on themselves, they become more idiotic every day, their minds atrophying, the centers of the organic machine more and more degenerated, all the areas of the brain no longer working, and finally the day will come when the Law of Entropy will equalize them all down below in the Tartarus.

Haven't you noticed how the Law of Entropy equalizes people? Someone can be buried in a golden coffin and someone else in a wooden coffin, and no matter how beautiful the sepulcher may be, in the long run they end up the same, one as bony as the other; death equalizes them all, that's obvious. That's entropy.

And we also know that there is a law, and that law is none other than the Law of Entropy. If we do not work on our thoughts, if we do not work on our mind, if we do not work on the "I", on the "me-myself", on the "oneself", etc., thoughts tend to be of a more and more inferior nature, emotions become more and more negative, volitions gradually become weaker, they fall into entropy, areas of the brain become weaker (and not all the areas of the brain work, as at other times, but only a few; the best doctors, the best men of science, know this); they fall into entropy.

Everything tends, then, to involute according to the Law of Entropy, and in the long run, entropy leads to the equalization of things. For example, in the golden coffin of a rich man and in the coffin of a poor man, the two bodies are equal in the end because only bones remain of them.

III One day the Earth will be just another moon

Here he turns to the planet itself: slowing, polluted, its fruits degenerated. He points to the Moon, whose ancient people the same law has already levelled.

Let us observe the Earth; they say it moves slower every day, in other words, the rotation on its axis is getting slower and slower each day due to the high tides and friction of the waters. On the other hand, the Sun is said to be cooling down. I don't think that's so but I do say that as the Earth's atmosphere becomes thinner, it will lose the capacity to screen and break down the Sun's rays into light and heat. At the rate we're going, the Moon will drift off if the rotational speed diminishes. That's the thinking, and I believe it's so; that's entropy.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

One day the Earth will be just another moon; entropy will have equalized it. For a start, let's see how it's doing under the Law of Entropy, how it is. The oceans are already turned into garbage dumps, fish dying, rivers polluted, creatures dying, the atmosphere polluted with smog, the fruits of the Earth adulterated; that's obvious.

The pseudo-sapients who "know everything" have done away with the true fruits of the Earth. Now you can't even find apples to eat, and we have to choke down Golden Delicious [apples]. Seedless oranges from California! Have you ever seen anything more stupid? Of course, that is the Law of Entropy; the know-it-alls are satisfied with their "wisdom" without knowing that what they've done is they've degenerated the vegetables, sending them down the path of entropy.

At the rate we're going, the lands will become sterile, and atomic explosions (because they've just made a killing financially), if we continue like this, the Earth will one day be equalized, it will become another moon.

In high flights of the Being, one can investigate inside the belly of the Moon, what happens in the bowels of our neighboring satellite. There we have a group of Selenite "I's" that belonged to a lunar type of people from when that satellite was inhabited (one day long ago, that satellite was inhabited, long before this Earth on which we live came into existence).

The Moon is ancient. When it had real life, it also had people, humanity, and today one finds the remains of those people among the Selenite "I's" of the infernal lunar worlds; they're all the same, indistinguishable from one another. The Law of Entropy has equalized them in the same way that it equalizes two corpses in the long run even if one has been buried in a golden box and another in a wooden box; in the long run, they're left equalized. The Law of Entropy is in charge of equalizing the rich and the poor and everybody; that is the crude reality of the facts.

II Any company that works without sacrifice has no victory

He explains why no work prospers without sacrifice. An enterprise begun without it slides into entropy, while every lasting power is won on its basis.

III Sacrifice is a transmutation of forces

Here he gives the key: entropy is overcome only by transformation, and transformation includes sacrifice. Sacrifice is the deliberate choice of a superior quality over an inferior one.

Fortunately, the wisdom of the Theomegalogos has it all very well calculated. We already know that only through transformation is it possible to overcome the Law of Entropy because transformation includes sacrifice; that is ostensible.

Nevertheless, since you like to bring up other laws, I will gladly put in quotation marks and underline, "When an inferior law is transcended by a superior law, the superior law washes away the inferior law." For an inferior law to be transcended by a superior law, it's necessary for the inferior law to be sacrificed by the superior law. Right? And when it is sacrificed, transformation comes, and transformation converts the inferior law into a superior law.

IV Oil is sacrificed in the locomotive

He takes his favourite example, the coal burned in a locomotive. A lump of coal and a moving train have nothing in common, yet sacrifice turns the one into the other.

Concretely, what does transformation really mean? With regard to this, much might be argued or objected to; someone might argue that transformation has nothing to do with sacrifice or vice versa but I've brought up the subject of transformation because it is fundamental to sacrifice.

Between MI and FA there is a pause in order to move on to the next goal. We must continue the battles, no matter the pain, until all the inferior forces are transformed into superior forces.

The fuel in a locomotive, for example, is sacrificed. For the sake of what? For the energy that sets the whole train in motion; that is sacrifice. If the engine is coal-fired like the old ones were, that fuel is sacrificed. For what? For the sake of energy, for the sake of making the train move. Yes, when an inferior force is sacrificed for the sake of a superior one, there is transformation. What happens is that the outcome is so different (because, let's see, for example) a fuel like coal is different from the energy of the train; when it's sacrificed, it becomes something so different because the energy that puts the train in motion is completely different from the energy of the coal; they're different.

A PRACTICE

It is necessary to annihilate the Ego in order to have real existence. Do you desire to drink? Do not drink! Do you desire to smoke? Do not smoke! Have you been smote on the right cheek? Turn thy left also. In coitus is found the supreme negation of self. To not ejaculate the Ens Seminis, to deny your self at the supreme moment is the absolute sacrifice of the "I"; the result of a similar self-denial is the awakening of Kundalini. The fire burns the dross and eventually dissolves the "I" completely. The fire is the potable gold. The Great Work The Great Work is represented by the twelfth Arcanum of the Tarot. On this card we see a man hanging by one foot. The hands of this man are tied behind his back in such a way that his body forms a triangle with the apex downwards and his legs a cross on top of the triangle. The whole work has as its objective to develop Soul; meaning to achieve the linking of the Cross with the Triangle. That is the Great Work. The twelfth card of the Tarot is Sexual Alchemy. The man-cross must link himself with the spirit-triangle by means of the sexual fire. According to the Chinese, the god Fu Xi (the Adam Christ) is born at midnight on the fourth day of the tenth moon of the twelfth year precisely. The Virgin Hoa-Se, strolling along the bank of a river (the seminal liquor) conceived in her womb the Christ while walking in the footsteps of the Great Man. You must study these quantities of 4, 10, and 12 in the light of lessons 4, 10, and 12 of this present course. White Tantrism and Black Tantrism Two types of tantrism exist in the Orient. Ejaculation of the Ens Seminis is not taught in Positive Tantrism. Ejaculation of the Ens Seminis is practiced in Negative Tantrism. There is also a Gray Tantrism, in which the issue of seminal ejaculation is given no importance. This is very dangerous because it can induce students to Negative Tantrism (Black Tantrism). Positive Sexual Yoga is practiced without ejaculation of the seminal liquor. There exists a Tantric Sadhana for the connection of the membrum virile and the genitalia murielis. This connection is carried out after an exchange of caresses between the man and the woman. The couple remains still, with a quiet, spacious mind so that the "I" does not intervene—thus arriving at ecstasy during the Tantric Sadhana.

III If one sacrifices anger, the precious gem of meekness will appear

He shows what is born when a defect is given up: meekness for anger, altruism for greed, philanthropy for envy. Conceit, vanity, jealousy and even the proud mind are placed on the altar.

A PRACTICE

For example, if one sacrifices sexual desire, that force—transformed into something else—crystalizes into powers in the Being, it crystalizes into the superior existential bodies of the Being. If one sacrifices anger, the precious gem of meekness will appear … … If one sacrifices the craving for money, that unbearable greed, altruism will be born within. If one sacrifices envy, he'll manifest philanthropy, the desire to work for his neighbor, joy for the good of others. That is all to say, there can be no transformation without sacrifice.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

A PRACTICE

When one truly establishes this teaching in his mind and in his heart, he comprehends the need to sacrifice many things, the need to fight for many things. There is a need to sacrifice a lot, a lot, in order to achieve the transformation of oneself. Sacrificing what is most pleasant in the life of man, of the human being, is truly indispensable when we want to transform ourselves.

The Fifth Gospel · Of the False Personality · Third Chamber – Mexico City

A PRACTICE

Master: Well, we have to start by sacrificing conceit. Start by becoming conscious that we are nothing but miserable worms of the mud of the earth. We will also sacrifice vanity, because, really, we are nothing more than miserable worms of the mud of the earth, there is nothing to be proud of. Sacrifice the worries that are completely useless, turn them into dust. What good are they to us? Sacrifice jealousy that leads us into error, to slander and to crime.

We need to destroy religious jealousy and build the temple of all religions, of the Living God, in our hearts. It is urgent to organize the Worldwide Salvation Army with people of all religions, schools and beliefs. In these end times we must sacrifice all fanaticism and selfishness, for supreme charity and love, for the so many millions of human beings who are screaming, who are suffering and who cry for help from the terrible darkness of the Abyss.

We do not want, however, to hinder the esoteric practices of magical levitation. We neither have the intention of dissuading or upsetting esoteric practices. We only propose the sacrificium intellectus — the sacrifice of the intellect — if we really long for the harmonious development of the fires of the heart.

A PRACTICE

The mental body is the donkey that we should ride in order to victoriously enter the celestial Jerusalem (superior worlds). There we are received with palm leaves, praises and celebration. The mental body is a material, dense body. The four bodies of sin, the physical, etheric, astral and mental bodies, are material bodies. The mind is the most rebellious animal that we have within, and we have to crucify that mind on the sacrificial altar. The mind is the den of desire and wickedness.

IV He is incapable of sacrificing his own sufferings

He teaches the rarest sacrifice of all, that of one's own sufferings. People give up pleasures and vices, but cling to their pain, and so they stay under the law.

Some people are willing to sacrifice their mundane pleasures for the joys of the spirit. Nevertheless, it is very rare for someone to be willing to renounce his or her own sufferings, to sacrifice them for something superior.

The Secret Doctrine of Anahuac, 1974

A PRACTICE

Anger produces pain; if we put an end to anger, we sacrifice the pain, we destroy it. It is necessary to observe ourselves from moment to moment; the pluralized "I" works in each of the five centers of the machine. A PRACTICE

One must begin by sacrificing even his own sufferings. I assure you that people are ready to sacrifice their pleasures and even their vices, their money, but never their sufferings. People love their sufferings, their pains; they love them too much. They would sacrifice everything except their sufferings, no, not that! If one begins by sacrificing his sufferings, he can take a great step and overcome the Law of Entropy. Which of you is resolved to sacrifice your own sufferings, to really sacrifice them, right?

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

A PRACTICE

Forget them, sacrifice them, and transform them; never return to thinking about that suffering again. Transform it into pure joy, and never be reminded it ever existed.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

Keep in mind that people base their experiences on the sufferings they went through, on the bitterness they had; "they became what they are today thanks to having suffered so much." Rare is the one willing to sacrifice his sufferings. People are not willing to sacrifice their sufferings. Why?

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

They love them so much! Who doesn't love them? Yes, observe people, look at them. You who are a practical man, observe the psychology of people and you will see how they love their sufferings. Everyone loves them and boasts of them; they enjoy reminiscing about them, "When I went through this and that, when I sold sweets on the street to become what I am today, Dr. So-and-So, or the powerful head of such-and-such a company. I, who sold newspapers, I, who slept on the sidewalk. How much I suffered!" Take that away from someone? No, they don't want that; people love their own sufferings too much.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

Yes, and they enjoy it. However rich they become, and powerful and happy in their luxury, they remember their sufferings from time to time; thus, remembering them, they feel self-important.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

A PRACTICE

The same system of transformations; everything is transformed by sacrifice. Sacrifice your sufferings, eradicate from yourselves the "I's" that produce them and the sufferings will be sacrificed. The "I's" of the sufferings must be eradicated, they must be disintegrated, they must be pulverized, they must be turned into dust, the energy that comes from it (because it results in a transformation) makes one a different man, and he defeats the Law of Entropy. If we don't do something, in the end we're swallowed by that Law.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

A PRACTICE

Master: Well, people would sacrifice everything but the suffering. People are capable of sacrificing their vices, their passions, their very life, but not their pain. They love their sufferings too much, they do not sacrifice them for anything, but they must sacrifice them as well. And one has to sacrifice the false personality, the identity that we have, what we apparently are. Our personality must be lost to ourselves.

The Fifth Gospel · Of the False Personality · Third Chamber – Mexico City

A PRACTICE

There are terrible, deep pains, that penetrate the Consciousness and if we know how to benefit from them, if we know how to take advantage of the lesson that they give us, to sacrifice the pain and know how to make the most of it, to be able to learn the lesson, to know how to extract it from within the pain and use it, then we sacrifice the suffering. These are terrible truths that I am telling you. But it is necessary –I repeat– to go through the annihilation of the mind, of the feeling, of the personality, of the "I".

The Fifth Gospel · Of the False Personality · Third Chamber – Mexico City

v He would renounce all vices except his beloved sufferings

Here he looks closely at how people treasure the hardships of their past and build their pride on them. He asks that these be sacrificed and never remembered again, so their energy can be transformed.

Of course, people want that kind of suffering very much and they'll sacrifice anything but it. A person can afford to sacrifice a rowdy celebration by not going to it, sacrifice a movie by not going to it, etc., but what no one would sacrifice quite so easily is their sufferings, they love them too much.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 304 – Celestial Justice

Everyone is attached to their beloved sufferings; I'm referring to those subjective sufferings of the past, to those which people love so much. Like when people say, "I used to sell candies, and I went from door to door offering them. It rained on me (I went through such tremendous bitterness). But in the end, I managed (with a lot of hard work) to study in school, at a university, and today I'm a doctor. Now that I'm a doctor, I have that experience," and he enjoys remembering those sufferings because it gives him the stature of an experienced man, a man who's gone through life's experiences, and he even reinforces his pride with it. It's his pride that says, "I have this experience. I went through terrible sufferings to become what I am." He would sacrifice anything except his sufferings; he would renounce all vices except his beloved sufferings.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 304 – Celestial Justice

A practice

They must be sacrificed; they must be sacrificed at some point with the aim of transforming energies. The transformed energies are converted into something different, something distinct, into the superlative powers of the Being. It's only through sacrifice that the transformation of inferior energies into superior energies can be achieved; that's obvious. So, that's one thing, and another is that reaching the intimate self-realization of the Being can only be done through conscious works and voluntary sufferings; that's different. Voluntary, not mechanical but voluntary!

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 304 – Celestial Justice

Mechanical suffering is one thing, and voluntary, intentional, and purposeful suffering is another. Of course, the implied sufferings are part of the esoteric discipline itself. The discipline entails certain sufferings but the initiate goes through those sufferings intentionally; he seeks a transformation because he knows every transformation requires sacrifice; it's obvious.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 304 – Celestial Justice

One feels satisfaction in remembering them, one feels like a martyr and enjoys it. It seems one is a little masochistic. Doesn't it?

A PRACTICE

Okay, you have to sacrifice them and never remember them again.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 304 – Celestial Justice

Only through sacrifice can the transformation of inferior energies into superior energies be achieved; this is obvious.

The Fifth Gospel

Of course, people love that type of suffering very much, and they would sacrifice everything except that. A person can afford to sacrifice a party, not to go to it; or sacrifice a movie, not go to it, etc., but what no one would sacrifice so easily would be their sufferings, they love them too much. The whole world is attached to their beloved sufferings.

The Fifth Gospel · The Reason of Being of Objective Justice · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1975

I am referring to that subjective sufferings of the past, which people speak so much about, as when they say: "Well, I used to sell sweets and walked around, from door to door, offering them; rain fell on me, I went through tremendous bitterness, but finally, with a lot of work I got to study at a school, at a university. Today I am a doctor. I, being a doctor today, have that experience." And he enjoys remembering those sufferings, because that gives him the character of an experienced man, of a man who went through the experiences of life. And he even bases his pride on that; it is a thing of pride. "I have this experience. I went through terrible sufferings to become a doctor", says his pride. And he would sacrifice everything, except for his sufferings. He would renounce all vices, except for his dear sufferings.

The Fifth Gospel · The Reason of Being of Objective Justice · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1975

A PRACTICE

We have to sacrifice them! We have to sacrifice them someday for the purpose of transforming energies. Those transformed energies turn into something different, into something distinct, into the superlative powers of the Being.

The Fifth Gospel · The Reason of Being of Objective Justice · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1975

Only through sacrifice can the transformation of inferior energies into superior energies be achieved; this is obvious. Therefore, one thing is suffering, and another thing is that to reach the Intimate Self-Realization of the Being, it can only be done on the basis of conscious works and voluntary sufferings. That is different. Voluntary! Not mechanical, but voluntary.

The Fifth Gospel · The Reason of Being of Objective Justice · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1975

One thing is mechanical suffering and another thing is voluntary suffering, intentional, done on purpose, and of course, sufferings are involved in the very esoteric discipline. Discipline involves certain sufferings, but the Initiate goes through these sufferings intentionally; it is a transformation, because he knows that every transformation cost him something; it costs him sacrifice, it is obvious.

VI How is pain sacrificed?

He answers a student with a practical method. Explore the pain, find the selves that cause it, have them disintegrated, and the freed energy becomes more consciousness.

Master: ► How is pain sacrificed?
THE FIFTH GOSPEL · THE WORD AND THE SACERDOTAL MAGISTERIUM

A PRACTICE

Master: The answer is a little vague, very vague, very vague. In reality, I am going to tell you a great truth: pain can only be sacrificed by self-exploring it and dissecting it. Let us take a concrete case: let us say that a man, suddenly, finds his wife talking very softly, over there, in a room, with another man. Naturally, this can provoke some jealousy in him, it is natural for this to provoke it. Now, if he finds the woman [speaking] too softly, with too much intimacy to a given individual, there can be an outburst of jealousy accompanied by great anger, right? Maybe even a fight with the other man due to jealousy. This produces terrific pain to the offended husband – clearly this can give rise to a divorce–, a horrifying moral pain.

THE FIFTH GOSPEL · THE WORD AND THE SACERDOTAL MAGISTERIUM

A PRACTICE

What can one do to save oneself from this pain, how can one take advantage of it? How can one renounce to the pain that this has produced? There is a way to solve it, to sacrifice that pain. What is it? The evident self-reflection of the Being, the self-exploration of oneself.

THE FIFTH GOSPEL · GNOSTIC CONSEQUENCES OF THE IMMOLATION OF PAIN · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

When one has reached the conclusion that it is those "I's" that have produced the pain in one, then one concentrates on the Divine Mother Kundalini and she disintegrates those "I's". Once they are disintegrated, the pain ends. When the pain ends, the Consciousness is freed. Then, by means of the sacrifice of pain, the Consciousness has been increased and strength has been acquired; by means of the sacrifice of pain.

THE FIFTH GOSPEL · GNOSTIC CONSEQUENCES OF THE IMMOLATION OF PAIN · Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

In this case, it can be said with absolute certainty that this pain can also be sacrificed and one can say: "Well, it's done, she has committed adultery. Am I sure of never having committed adultery? Of course not. If I am an adulterer –it is said–, then why do I condemn? I have no right to condemn anyone, because whoever feels clean of sin may throw the first stone." So, who is the one causing me pain? The "I's" of intolerance, self-importance, jealousy, self-love, etc.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

Once we have reached the conclusion that those are the ones that are causing us pain, then we must work to disintegrate them, and the pain disappears, it is eliminated. Why? Because it has been sacrificed, and that brings an increase of Consciousness, because those energies, which were involved in the pain, are released. It not only brings the peace of the tranquil heart, but it also brings an increase of Consciousness, a growth of Consciousness. That is called sacrificing pain.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

But people are capable of anything except sacrificing their pains, they love their pains very much; and it turns out that the greatest pains are those that give one the best opportunities for awakening, for the awakening of the Consciousness. But one has to learn to sacrifice pain.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

In any case, the insulter leaves pain in the depths of the insulted or offended person. What would be interesting is that the offended person be able to sacrifice that pain; and he can sacrifice it through meditation.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

One has to take into account all these factors, learn to sacrifice pain. People are capable of sacrificing everything except their pain. They love their own sufferings very much, they idolize them; therein lies the mistake.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

Learning to sacrifice one's own pain, that's what is interesting in order to be able to awaken the Consciousness. Clearly, it is not an easy thing, the work is hard: going against oneself is very hard, it is not very sweet. But it is worth it for one to go against oneself for the results he will get: the awakening. So, are you starting to understand?

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

But one has to learn to sacrifice pain.

The Fifth Gospel

But when one begins to disintegrate the Ego, he begins to whiten. When one knows how to sacrifice one's own sufferings, he begins to whiten. When one has completely disintegrated the Ego, he shines gloriously, and upon integrating with the Initiate, he transforms the latter into an archangel, because he himself becomes an archangel. And he will always keep his horns. But on the horns are the tridents, and the number of tridents indicates the degree of development attained in the objective reason of the Being.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

Master: It could be said Paramarthasatya. But such heights are not reached except through successive awakenings of the Consciousness, and one cannot reach those successive awakenings of the Consciousness except by sacrificing pain, by learning to sacrifice one's own sufferings. Because, in reality and in truth, every time one sacrifices a suffering, one's Consciousness grows and one acquires more psychological strength.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

That is already properly proven. Sacrificing pain: that is the most extraordinary key there is for processing the awakening of the Consciousness. These various awakenings, in turn, go on increasing or intensifying the development of objective reason, which belongs –as I have already said– to the profound inner mind.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

Through this path one arrives at the end: increasing the Consciousness more and more, and as one increases the Consciousness, one "kills" karma, one "kills". Let us give an example, if someone becomes conscious of the pain that a poorly done business deal caused him, he discovers that the "I" of selfishness was active. So he disintegrates it and "kills" karma; or discovers that the "I" of ambition was active, he "kills" karma upon disintegrating it. And if people took advantage of even the smallest pain in their lives to sacrifice it, at the time of death, they would disincarnate without karma, with a completely lucid, awakened Consciousness, and without karma.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

So, there are the "I" of attachment and the "I" of fear; these "I's" cause anguish. If meditation comes and pain is sacrificed, if one understands that money is transient, that material things are vain and illusory; if one becomes conscious of that truth, if that truth does not remain simply in the intellect, but remains in the Consciousness; if one reaches the understanding that he was attached to his wallet and money; if one reaches the understanding that he is afraid of finding himself without money before the problems of life, then he naturally sets out to put an end to these two "I's": that of fear and that of attachment.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

A PRACTICE

One says: "I will sacrifice that pain, because this is vain and illusory", and he dissects that pain, he reaches the understanding that it is vain and illusory, because a wallet, some money, all of that, are perishable things. Then one ends up disintegrating the "I" of attachment to money and the "I" of fear, and in this way, he sacrifices his pain and the pain disappears.

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

Upon reaching these heights, one comes to realize, in truth, who was the one who was causing the pain. It was not the thief who caused the pain, but the "I" of attachment to material things and the "I" of fear. And one confirms it after he sacrifices the pain, after he disintegrates the "I's" of fear and of attachment; he comes to understand it because the pain disappears completely. So, it was not the thief who caused the pain. One carries the causes of pain within oneself; not outside oneself, but within. If one does not sacrifice pain, one will never be happy. And the causes of pain are not outside oneself, but within oneself. I have reached these reflections. [...]

The Fifth Gospel ·Gnostic Consequences of the Immolation of Pain ·Lecture-Interview – Mexico City – 1976

Master: Of course, provoking formidable awakenings, sacrificing one's own sufferings, and people are not willing to sacrifice this, they love them too much. But if one sacrifices them... Oh! The awakening! The awakenings come one after the other.

VII The most extraordinary key there is in the process of awakening

This is the same teaching as given in a lecture, step by step. Each pain sacrificed brings an awakening, a virtue in its place, and freedom from karma.

A PRACTICE

Very vague, very vague. Really, I'm going to tell you a great truth; pain is only sacrificed by self-exploration and dissection. Let's take a concrete case, let's say a man suddenly finds his wife speaking very quietly somewhere in a room with another man. Really, this can provoke some jealousy. Right? It's natural that it would be provoked. Now, if he finds the woman is speaking a bit too quietly, is too intimate with person XX, he could have an outburst of jealousy. Right? Accompanied by great displeasure. Right? Maybe even have an argument with the other man, in short, out of jealousy. This produces terrible pain for the husband, the offended husband. Doesn't it? It could even give rise to a divorce. Right? Horrible moral pain.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 154 — Sacrifice of Pain

A PRACTICE

What do you do to save yourself from that pain? How do you take advantage of it? How do you renounce the pain it has produced? There is a way to resolve it and to sacrifice that pain. How? The evident self-reflection of the Being, self-exploration. For example, are you sure you've never had a relationship with another woman? Are you sure you've never slept with another woman? Are you sure you've never been an adulterer, either in this life or in past incarnations? Of course not. Right? Because all of us, in the past, were adulterers, fornicators; that's obvious.

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 154 — Sacrifice of Pain

A PRACTICE

When one has reached the conclusion that it is those "I's" which have caused the pain, he focuses on the Divine Mother Kundalini, and she disintegrates those "I's". When they are disintegrated, the pain ends. When the pain ends, the consciousness is free. Thus, through the sacrifice of pain, the consciousness is increased, and gains strength through the sacrifice of pain.

In that case, it can also be said with absolute certainty that one can also sacrifice that pain and say, "Well, the adultery was already committed. Am I sure I've never committed adultery? Of course not. So, why do I condemn? I have no right to condemn anyone because he who is without sin, let him cast the first stone." So, who is it that's causing me the pain? The "I's" of intolerance, self-importance, jealousy, self-love, etc. So, if you reached the conclusion that they are the ones causing you the pain, you should work to disintegrate them, and the pain disappears, it's eliminated. Why? Because you have sacrificed, and that brings an increase to the consciousness because the energies that were involved in that pain are freed. This not only brings the peace of a tranquil heart, it also brings an increase of consciousness, an accretion of the consciousness; that is what is known as sacrificing pain.

But people are capable of anything short of sacrificing their pain; they love their pain very much, and it turns out that the greatest pains are the ones that provide the best opportunities for awakening, for awakening the consciousness. But you need to learn to sacrifice the pain.

There are "I's" within oneself that dictate what one should do and say, "Answer back, get revenge, settle the score, get even." If one identifies with them, he ends up doing it, answering back to the insulter, he ends up taking revenge, retaliating, etc. But if one does not identify with the "I" that is prompting such nonsense, he doesn't do so. At any rate, let's say the insulter leaves pain in the depths of the insulted or offended. It would be interesting if the offended person were able to sacrifice that pain; and he can sacrifice it through meditation.

When one has discovered that which was hurt, if he knows it was pride, he disintegrates the pride, and if it was self-love, he disintegrates the self-love. The result is that when you disintegrate it, you're free from the pain, you've sacrificed the pain, and in its place a virtue is born—that of serenity—you have awakened even more. One must take all these factors into account and learn to sacrifice pain. People are capable of sacrificing anything except pain; they love their own suffering so much, they idolize it, that is the mistake.

A PRACTICE

Learning to sacrifice one's own pain is what's of interest in being able to awaken consciousness. Of course, it's not an easy thing, the work is hard, going against oneself is something very hard, it's not very pleasant. But it's worthwhile to go against oneself for the results that will be obtained—the awakening. So, are you getting the picture?

But when one begins to disintegrate the ego, he begins to whiten himself. When one knows how to sacrifice his own sufferings, he begins to whiten himself. When one has completely disintegrated the ego, he shines gloriously; and by integrating himself with the Intimate, it transforms him into an archangel because he himself becomes an archangel.

You could say that, Paramartha-satya. But one does not reach such heights except through successive awakenings of the consciousness, and one cannot achieve those successive awakenings of the consciousness except by sacrificing pain, by learning to sacrifice one's own sufferings. For in truth, each time one sacrifices suffering, his consciousness increases and he acquires more psychological strength. That is perfectly, shall we say, evidenced. Sacrificing pain, that is the most extraordinary key there is in the process of awakening the consciousness. These diverse awakenings in turn, we could say, increase or intensify the development of objective reason, which belongs, as I have already said, to the profound interior mind. This is the way to liberation: one has to increase one's consciousness, and as he increases his consciousness, he's going to "kill karma," he kills it. If someone, for example, becomes conscious of the pain caused by a business deal gone bad (as an example), he discovers that the "I" of selfishness was active. So, he disintegrates it and "kills karma"; or he discovers that the "I" of ambition was active, he "kills karma" by disintegrating it.

So, there is the "I" of attachment and the "I" of fear; those "I's" produce anguish. But if through meditation one sacrifices the pain, he understands that money is fleeting, that material things are vain and illusory. If one becomes conscious of that truth, if that truth does not simply remain in the intellect but remains in the consciousness, if he comes to understand that he was attached to his wallet and to his money, if he comes to understand that he's afraid of being without money in the face of life's problems, then he naturally proposes to do away with those two "I's", the "I" of fear and the "I" of attachment. Right?

It is interesting to remember that during human sacrifice, the hearts of maidens were offered to the Gods. All this contains an esoteric meaning, which the erudite ignoramuses of this century do not understand. It is clear that we do not approve of human sacrifice. These sacrifices were barbaric; millions of children and maidens were sacrificed to the Gods. These were horrifying scenes of pain; abomi nable. We are only reflecting, however, upon the fact of offering the bleeding heart to the Gods. This fact is tremendous. The Intimus needs to swallow the heart of man, that is to say to assimilate it, absorb it, devour the human personality that has fabricated that which is called Soul. It is truly the case that the Intimus is like a tree with many leaves. Each leaf is a human personality. The Intimus does not have one single personality as pseudo-esotericists believe. The Intimus has various personalities, and what is most astounding is that he can have them incarnated in different parts of the world.

1 Christ sacrificed himself to overcome the Law of Entropy

He presents Christ on Golgotha and Mithras with the bull as one teaching. Life springs from sacrifice, and that crucifixion must be carried out within each one of us.

Jesus Christ sacrificed himself extensively for humanity. Why? He needed to open the path of initiation publicly for us (deep down, there's something more to it).

Yes, the transformation will take place on the basis of sacrifice. The sacrifice will cause a great catastrophe. Christ himself sacrificed himself on Golgotha to overcome the Law of Entropy. And the God Mithras was mounted on a bull with a knife stuck in the animal's back; from the blood that was shed from that sacred bull, plants and all that is, has been, and will be, sprang forth. That tells us the same thing, sacrifice is indispensable for transformation; transformation is urgent to transcend entropy. If one does nothing, if he does not sacrifice even his own bitterness, he will be the victim of the Law of Entropy. People don't feel like sacrificing themselves, no. They don't comprehend the Law of Sacrifice, or they believe that fruitful work can be done without sacrifice, which is absurd because if one begins with great enthusiasm, for example, but without the spirit of sacrifice, sooner or later the Law of Entropy will come into action and his work will fail. But if one begins a work on the basis of sacrifice, it will cause incessant transformations, and his work will grow and will be fruitful everywhere; it's clear.

The God Child grows little by little, over time He develops. How does He grow? In what way? By eliminating the "I " disintegrating them, reducing them to ashes, to cosmic dust. This is how our personal intimate Jeshua grows. The labour which that Child must undertake is very arduous; it is the Christ which is born in the stable to save us, and He must kill within Himself all of those animals of the stable. He must over come the princes of evil in Himself, the sons of infidelity in Himself, and the temptations which one must pass through being human, being a person of flesh and bone. These are the temptations through which he must pass; they are His temptations, and one's own body of flesh and bone becomes His body of flesh and bone. In this lies the value of His sacrifices, of His efforts.

This is Holy Week, the moment of crossing from one extreme to another, the moment of the Lord's crucifixion in this world. III Those who have renounced the happiness of Nirvana for the love of humanity

He describes the Bodhisattva, who gives up Nirvana for the sake of others. Only those who sacrifice themselves through the ages can truly incarnate the Christ.

But Mahayana Buddhism, or Mahayanic Buddhism, is more exigent. Only those who have sacrificed themselves for humanity through successive Mahamanvantaras are recognized as Bodhisattvas.

For the Few, 1980

Mahayanic Buddhism says that there are two classes of these beings: those who would be Pratyeka Buddhas, and those aspiring to be Pratyeka Buddhas, who are the Shravakas. The Shravakas have never sacrificed for humanity, never, not ever. They fight for change, yes, and they do change. But, they have never given their lives for their brothers and they have never bore the Intimate Christ. The others are truly Bodhisattvas. They are those who have renounced the happiness of Nirvana for the love of humanity. They are those who, in different Mahamanvantaras, have given their blood for humanity. Even though being able to live happily in Nirvana, they renounced any happiness for their brothers on Earth. They are the only ones who can truly incarnate the Christ.

And on the other hand, we truly have the Bodhisattvas of Compassion, those who, having created the superior existential bodies of the Being (meaning, the mercurial bodies), have dedicated themselves to working with the third factor of the revolution of consciousness; they have sacrificed themselves for humanity. They, the bodhisattvas who have given their blood for all people throughout different eternities, they (indeed they) are the ones who later shall truly receive the Venustic Initiation and incarnate the Christ in that great cosmic event. It has been written, “To him who knows, the word gives power; no one has pronounced it, no one will pronounce it but he alone who has incarnated it." H.P.B. classifies as bodhisattvas those who have the superior existential bodies of the Being through fulfillment of the being-Partkdolg-duty. But speaking in rigorous Christic and Buddhist esoteric terms, we come to the conclusion that bodhisattvas are really those who have sacrificed themselves for planetary humanities through successive mahamanvantaras. Only they, the bodhisattvas, can attain omniscience.

Obviously, the three bodies, for example, the body of transformation—the nirmanakaya, as we call it—is magnificent because it allows us to transform ourselves, to completely renounce all happiness in order to think in terms of our fellowman. There are, for example, great arhats—we cannot deny it—buddhas of contemplation who we call pratyekas, who are concerned with their interior perfection, yes, but who are cruel; they don't work for humanity, they do nothing for the world. That isn't the path of authentic perfection. If we work not only within ourselves

He places sacrifice for humanity beside death and birth as the third factor of the inner revolution. It is love, charity well understood, the following of Christ.

The revolution of the consciousness has three basic factors: first, death, second, birth, and third, sacrifice for humanity. The order of these three factors does not alter the end result. In short, these are three parallel lines of our inner self. They are three well-defined lines of the revolution of consciousness. We must work with these three basic factors if we really, truly yearn for the full self-realisation. Let us now study each of these three factors separately in order to know what must die in us, what must be born and why we should sacrifice for others.

To deny oneself means dissolution of the “I”. To take up one’s cross, place it on our shoulders, means to work with sex-yoga, with the Maithuna, with sexual magic. To follow the Christ is equivalent to sacrificing oneself for humanity, to give one’s life so that others may live.

Tamasic Sacrifice is always done against the commandments, without faith, without the Mantrams, without charity towards anyone, without love for humanity, without offering the sacred offering to the Priests or Gurus, etc., etc., etc.

> The Fifth Gospel

When one loves something, he sacrifices himself for what he loves, but if he does not love, he could not sacrifice himself. To be fully dedicated to one's work, one must first of all love it dearly. If one does not love the work, then it is not possible for a conjunction to be formed with that Gnostic esoteric work. If there is no conjunction between the work and our lives, obviously, we will not work; that is all.

5. Only unselfish service, chastity and sanctity take us to the ineffable summits 6. Now brother of mine, you have seen what is the great service 7. I know many spiritualist brethren, good and virtuous who fight for their perfection 8. I know many brethren who fight indescribably to correct their defects and to purify themselves. Yet, they do not remember others... They feel alone, they fight for their own spiritual progress and for their moral self-development. However, they do not remember that they have brothers and sisters and that all of us are children of the same Mother 9. Their spirituality is selfish spirituality. Therefore, the Masters do not owe them anything. There is nothing to pay them because nothing is owed to them. They do not assist anyone. They do not sacrifice themselves for anyone, nor do they fight for the spirituality of anyone.

III We must give our lives for our fellow man

These are his instructions for giving oneself to others. Be ready to give the last drop of blood, renounce happiness, and walk the path of chastity and sacrifice.

A PRACTICE

It is urgent to pass through the mystical death. It is necessary to make soul and Spirit. It is essential to sacrifice for humanity, which is the practice of universal charity. Everyone who travels this Path inevitably reaches triple intimate self-realisation. It is urgent to give all human beings these teachings. It is necessary to sacrifice for all people. Charity must be well understood. We must die. We must be born. We must give our lives for our fellow man.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGES, 1952-66

A PRACTICE

It is urgent to undergo mystical death. It is necessary to fabricate the Soul. It is indispensable to sacrifice ourselves for humanity, we must give our lives for our fellow men. The psychological "I" had a beginning, and therefore, it also has an end. Pain is the result of our own mistakes. When one makes a mistake, the result is pain. We make mistakes because we are imperfect; we are imperfect because we have the "I" inside us. When the "I" disappears, true and authentic happiness comes to us.

THE FIFTH GOSPEL · THE BALANCE OF THE ENERGETIC CENTERS · Conference given to Gnostic students

A PRACTICE

It is necessary to be born, and this is a labor with the grain, with the seed; this is a sexual problem. It is indispensable to love our fellowman and to totally sacrifice ourselves for them. The Path is more bitter than bile and it does not suit nature, because it is contrary to its designs.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGES, 1952-66

A PRACTICE

We must profoundly revere all religions. We should worship in all temples. We need to sacrifice ourselves for humanity, give up to our last drop of blood for mankind.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGES, 1952-66

A PRACTICE

Give away your goods to the poor, give away the last drop of your blood for the sake of this poor suffering humanity, renounce to all happiness. Then, the Immolated Lamb will enter into your soul. He will make his abode within your soul.

The Aquarian Message, 1960

A PRACTICE

The third step of knowledge is that of intuitive knowledge. In order to reach the ineffable summits of intuitive knowledge, there is the need to kiss the whip of the executioner and the hand of the one who strikes us. We must ol ve and adore the whole of humanity, sacrificing ourselves for it, always ready to give even the last drop of our blood for the love of this poor suffering humanity.

The Aquarian Message, 1960

A PRACTICE

Whoever follows the Path of the Perfect Matrimony should develop charity. Cruel and pitiless people do not progress in this path. It is urgent to learn to love and always be willing to give even the last drop of blood for others. The warmth of charity opens all the doors of the heart. The warmth of charity brings Solar Faith to the mind. Charity is conscious love. The fire of charity develops the chakra of the heart. The fire of charity permits the Sexual Serpent to rise rapidly through the medullar channel. Whoever wants to advance rapidly on the Path of the Razor's Edge, should practise Sexual Magic intensely and give himself totally to the Great Universal Charity. Thus, by sacrificing himself absolutely for his fellowman and giving his blood and his life for them, he will be rapidly Christified.

The Perfect Matrimony, 1966

To follow the Lord from second to second signifies sacrifice for humanity, to be ready to give even our last drop of blood for our fellow men, to immolate ourselves upon the Sacred Altar of supreme love for the sake of all of our brethren of the world.

IV The Initiations are payments which the Logos makes to man

He explains what sacrifice for humanity pays. It settles karma, earns cosmic capital, and brings powers and initiations as the Logos's payment.

Master: Obviously, those who raise the torch of the verb to illuminate with it all those who live in existence, undoubtedly follow the path of the most magnificent sacrifice. They imitate the Christ, who gave his life for humanity. They imitate the apostles, who preached in every comer of the Earth; they imitate, then, the great martyrs. People like that accumulate a great dharma which enables them to advance on the Path of the Razor's Edge. Thus, sacrifice is magnificent.

The Fifth Gospel · Gnostic Apostolate · Interview – Mexico City – November, 1976

Thus, sacrifice is advisable for those who truly want to be left clean of karma, because when one has with what to pay, one pays and does well in business. When one does not have with what to pay, one must pay with a lot of pain. It is better to have cosmic capital to pay, and that capital is achieved by means of sacrifice in favor of humanity, taking the Teaching to all the peoples of the Earth.

Karma and Dharma: these two oriental terms mean punishment and reward. In a more philosophical form we would say: bad action and bad consequence, and modifying the causes, one modifies the effects, since the effects are nothing else but causes reproduced in another form. Are you going to be made a prisoner? Give freedom to another ! Is your son going to die? Heal your fellowman ! Are you in misery? Give all that you have left to the hungry and sacrifice all your efforts in favor of others. Beg, in prayer, to the Lords of Karma and you will be heard.

Work in the Great Work of the Father. In this manner you will pay your debts and you shall liberate yourself from the Law of Karma. Later you will be justified by the faith in Christ; you will then live under grace. When we are servants of sin, we are subjected to the Law of Karma. When we are servants of the Lord, we will live under the action of grace, or blessing. The laborer receives his salary; that is the payment from the Law. Those who have already christified themselves, receive gifts, powers, glory and majesty as grace or blessing. Wherever the Law does not exist, sin also does not exist. Sacrifice yourself for the Great Work of the Father; sanctify yourself.

V A great sacrifice must be made, a catastrophe is needed

He closes with the Earth's own sacrifice. A great catastrophe will save the planet from becoming a moon, and from that transformation a new Golden Age will emerge.

At present, the seas have become enormous garbage dumps; if everything continues like this, in forty years, half of humanity will have disappeared. Everything will be equalized by death.

Transcribed lectures ·Lecture 029 – Existential Wealth of Sacrifice ·Interview – Mexico City – 1976

The Earth must be saved so the seven races can be completed. The planet must be sacrificed with the holocaust of fire, the banquet of water, and the combat of the elements, all according to the Law. The Gospel according to the Law is the Gospel of St. Luke.

Transcribed lectures ·Lecture 029 – Existential Wealth of Sacrifice ·Interview – Mexico City – 1976

Currently the Earth, for example, is marching completely in accordance with the Law of Entropy, and if there's no great sacrifice it will be equalized in the future, becoming just one more moon. But the program has not been completed (each planet has to have its seven races before it becomes a moon); a great sacrifice must be made, a catastrophe is needed, and the sacrificer will be the Theomegalogos.

> So, catastrophe is an indispensable necessity in order to overcome the Law of Entropy.

> Transcribed lectures

A catastrophe is needed. What for? To transform it, this Earth; this humanity must be sacrificed, all this must be transformed, sacrificed. A transformation is needed, and as a result of that transformation of energies, a new Earth will emerge with its Golden Age and beauty.

Transcribed lectures ·Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

So, catastrophe is an indispensable necessity in order to overcome the Law of Entropy. If there were no such catastrophe, the Law of Entropy would end up equalizing the Earth with the Moon; it would be just another moon before its time. But thanks to the transformation that will take place with this sacrifice, which will be a catastrophe, a new Golden Age and a new humanity will emerge ... …

Transcribed lectures · Lecture 121 – Faith, the Law of Entropy, the Essence, and Types of Hanasmussen

… … The Earth, then, is in agony; entropy is taking it, little by little, until it becomes a moon. Anyone who has a little vision can know it. Only through transformation can it manage to not yet become a moon, for something new to emerge from the chaos.

About this booklet. Corrected 9 October 2026; further notes added 14 October 2026. Earlier versions of this booklet gave some of the Master's early passages on awakening the Kundalini without noting his later teaching that it awakens only through the couple. Notes now sit beneath those passages, and our own headings have been put right. With thanks to the reader who pointed it out.

How this was made. Every book file the shelf is built from was read again from its PDF, with both volumes of the Fifth Gospel and, by the editor's ruling of 26 September 2026, the thirty-seven transcribed lectures, and swept for his words for it: sacrifice and immolation in every form, entropy, and an inferior force transformed into a superior one, with the other half of any sentence the page had broken. That returned 727 candidate paragraphs in 55 sources. Every candidate was read twice, by independent readers working from a written brief; they agreed on whether to print 95.3% of the time and on the class 90.8%, and a third reader, who saw neither verdict, settled the 34 they did not. The paragraphs of The Law of Entropy were brought in whole, so that this work holds that one, and every one of them is marked. 253 passages are printed here. The rest are recorded with the reason each was set aside.

What was set aside. 125 named sacrifice only in passing, 70 were ritual or animal sacrifice told for itself, 61 were another subject, 52 headings, running heads or index lines, 28 stories told for themselves, 26 the ordinary word, 24 a student's question without his answer, 15 sexual alchemy with no sacrifice in it, 4 the death of the ego in general and 4 the third factor as organising. Some more were judged and not printed.

One talk, one witness. The Fifth Gospel lecture Existential Richness of Sacrifice and transcribed Lecture 029 are the same talk in two translations. The Fifth Gospel copy opens with an editor's recording mark, which the shelf holds out, so the lecture is printed and the Fifth Gospel paragraphs are recorded as the same words, not printed twice.

What was corrected, silently. The line-end breaks of the Fifth Gospel's two narrow columns are closed up, each to the form the rest of his books use. In the transcripts the "Master:" label and the students' words are lifted, not printed, and their marks for tape that cannot be heard are printed as they stand.

No sentence of his is cut in half. 43 passages run over more than one paragraph so that each sentence prints whole.

131 passages also stand in another finished work, and every one is marked where it stands: all of The Law of Entropy, and passages shared with The Intimate Christ, The Igneous Rose, Evolution, Involution, Revolution, The Law of Karma and nineteen more, found by matching this work against the Word file of every work on the shelf.

The eighth work of The Laws. It holds the whole of The Law of Entropy and carries it on into the way out. It wears the family's sage ground and thick-and-thin border, in the crimson of the altar.
