THE WHEEL OF THE YEAR

September 2026 — December 2027

Every dated thing in the books of Samael Aun Weor, placed on its actual day: the twelve gates of the zodiac and the practice each one asks for, the fixed feasts, Holy Week, and the moon of every night it turns. Beside them, the days the gnostic movement keeps in relation to the Master himself — his birth, the Initiation of Tiphereth, his death, and the resurrection. Those last are set in gold, because they come from outside the books and he never wrote them.

THE DAYS THE PATH KEEPS

Not from the books. Sourced outside them, and set in gold throughout.

5 February	Litelantes passed, 1998, Mexico City.
6 March	Born Víctor Manuel Gómez Rodríguez, 1917, Bogotá.
6 October	Litelantes born, Arnolda Garro Mora, 1920, Antioquia.
27 October	The Initiation of Tiphereth, 1954. He took the name Samael Aun Weor.
24 December	Died in Mexico City, 1977, aged sixty. The date every Christmas Message carries.
27 December	Kept as the day of his resurrection, 1977, on the account of one witness.

HOW TO READ IT

BLACK TYPE	Samael's own words, from the books. Verbatim.
GOLD TYPE	A day the path keeps. Not his writing.
A TINTED CELL	The gate of a sign, in the colour that sign is given in the Zodiacal Course.
THE WEEKDAYS	Each carries the angel invoked on it, from Occult Medicine.

● Full
◑ Crescent, first quarter — lit on the left, as it appears here
◐ Waning, last quarter
○ New

HOW IT HANGS

Print single-sided, keep the order, and staple along the top edge. Each month is two leaves — the plate, then the grid — so the picture hangs above and the days below.

Moon phases in New Zealand time — computed from an ephemeris and checked against the tables of the Royal Astronomical Society of New Zealand.

THE TWENTY-TWO ARCANA OF THE EGYPTIAN TAROT

His own names and his own one-line readings, from the prediction table of Tarot and Kabalah. The number under every date on this calendar is the arcanum of that day of the month.

> Each year has its Kabbalistic card which allows us to make intuitive forecasts. … Examples: 1951, is broken up like this: 1-9-5-1=16 Arcane XVI. The fulminated tower. Meaning divine destruction.
>
> ZODIACAL COURSE (1951)

> Add the major Arcanum to the result of the sum of the two digits of each one of the minor ones. If the result is greater than 22, add the digits once again; the final result is the card of prediction, the result.
>
> TAROT AND KABALAH (1969)

DAYS 23 TO 31 — THE MINOR ARCANA

The majors run 1 to 22, so the first twenty-two days of a month each have one outright. From the 23rd the number falls among the fifty-six minors, and his rule reduces it: “If the result is greater than 22, add the digits once again.” He works exactly this in his own examples — “24 = 2 + 4 = 6: The Lover”, and “The Prodigy: 26 = 2 + 6 = 8”. Those two are the only minors he names by number, and both are marked below.

23 → 5 The Hierarch 24 → 6 Indecision (The Weaver) 25 → 7 Triumph 26 → 8 Justice (The Prodigy) 27 → 9 The Hermit
28 → 10 Retribution 29 → 11 Persuasion 30 → 3 The Empress 31 → 4 The Emperor

THE TATTWAS, AND WHY THEY ARE NOT ON THE GRID

> I regret to have to disagree with the opinion of the Master Huiracocha about the Tattwic day-timer. He says in his Taiiwanieicr that the five Tattwas successively vibrate for two hour periods, and that each Tattwa vibrates for 24 minutes in the following way: 1. Akasa, 2.Vayu, 3.Tejas, 4. Pritwi, 5. Apas. Huiracocha asseverates that this vibration of the Tattwas begins everyday with sunrise. Yet, this is in discordance with the facts and observations. Therefore, the best Tattwic day-timer is the one from Nature.
> OCCULT MEDICINE AND PRACTICAL MAGIC (1977–78)

> TATTWAS — ELEMENTALS. Akash, Principle of Ether. Vayu, Principle of Air. Tejas, Principle of Fire. Prithvi, Principle of Earth. Apas, Principle of Water. This first order which is mentioned is in accordance with Rama Prasat. The true order is: Akash, Principle of Ether. Tejas, Principle of Fire. Vayu, Principle of Air. Apas, Principle of Water. Prithvi, Principle of Earth.

THE TRUE ORDER, AND THE CLOCK HE GIVES FOR IT

1. Akash	Principle of Ether	0–24 minutes of each two-hour turn
2. Tejas	Principle of Fire	24–48 minutes of each two-hour turn
3. Vayu	Principle of Air	48–72 minutes of each two-hour turn
4. Apas	Principle of Water	72–96 minutes of each two-hour turn
5. Prithvi	Principle of Earth	96–120 minutes of each two-hour turn

READ THE SKY, NOT THE HOUR

APAS — WATER
When the weather is cold, humid, rainy and the sky is cloudy with dense, large, black clouds, then this means that the cause of this is rooted in the Tattwa of the water (Apas).

VAYU — AIR
In the hours or days of hurricanes and breeze we can asseverate that the ethereal waves of the air (Vayu) are in agitation and vibration.

TEJAS — FIRE
The noon filled with sun clearly points to us that the ether of fire (Tejas) is intensely vibrating.

AKASA — ETHER
Dry, sultry weather elucidates for us the vibrations of Akasa.

So there is a clock — twenty-four minutes to each tattwa, five in rotation, two hours to a full turn — and in the same breath he tells you the clock does not start where Huiracocha says it starts. That is why no tattwa appears in the day cells of this calendar. By his own account you read the sky, not the hour.

THE SEVEN EXORCISMS, ONE TO A DAY

Occult Medicine prints these seven in his older order — Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday — the same order in which he says “MONDAY is present day Sunday.” They are set out here in that order, not the calendar's, because that is how he gives them. Three of his own instructions go with them: the invocations must always be performed during the night; they are sanctioned only to ask healing for someone gravely sick or for a charitable work; and a circle two metres across is traced on the ground with the tip of the sword, the invoker standing in the centre.

THE PRACTICE WITH MELCHIZEDEK

Saturday the thirteenth, at the thirteenth hour. This one is not in the books — and the two schools that teach it say so plainly themselves.

WHERE IT COMES FROM

Chicago Gnosis: “this practice was taught by Samael Aun Weor but not publicly written about in his books”, and they “have been blessed to receive this practice from a direct student of the master.” Glorian points to the same thing from its Melchisedec glossary entry — “Learn more about Melchizedek and the prayer for Saturday the 13th: A New Heaven and Earth.” Seventeen of his books were searched for it and it is in none of them, which is exactly what both schools say. So it is set in gold here, like the other days that come from outside the books.

THE PRACTICE

1. Lie face down, on the stomach or the solar plexus, in a relaxed posture.
2. Close the eyes and pray to your inner Being, asking to go to the temple of Melchisedec — the temple in the centre of the Earth.
3. Visualise the journey there, and imagine conversing with him.
4. Hold the prayer and the meditation for the whole hour.

> “Call upon the help of Melchisedec to learn about yourself. Do not call upon Melchisedec and ask him to help you get a new car, or to get a new house… The point of the practice is to get help from Melchisedec to learn about your own Earth (your self).”
> CHICAGO GNOSIS, QUOTING A GNOSTIC INSTRUCTOR

The two pages differ slightly on the hour — one says “the thirteenth hour (one o'clock)”, the other “from 12 pm to 1 pm, the thirteenth hour”. Both mean the hour that ends at one. What Samael himself does say of Melchisedec, in his own books, is that he is the genie of the Earth, the King of the World, whose secret name is Changam, and that the Order of Melchizedek is entered by those who achieve the Second Birth.

THE WORK HE WAS IN WHEN HE WROTE EACH BOOK

> I hope everyone pays the maximum attention. Of the Three Mountains, the First Mountain is of Initiation, the Second Mountain is of Resurrection, the Third Mountain is of Ascension.

> SAMAEL AUN WEOR

This is the ordering given in “Esoteric Order of the Works of the Master”, which sets each book beside the initiatic process he was in when he wrote it, and cites Encounter with Samael and Purgatory in the Initiatic Path as its sources. TWO MONTHS TO EACH DEFECT, AND THE MIRROR WINDOWS

> We have to sum up our defects and dedicate two months to each defect in a successive order, until we put an end to all the defects. This simple rule is the key to making the Kundalini rise
>
> ESOTERIC TREATISE OF HERMETIC ASTROLOGY (1967)

> Whosoever intends to eliminate all the defects at the same time is similar to the hunter that wants to hunt ten hares at the same time. He does not succeed in hunting any of them.
> MANUAL OF PRACTICAL MAGIC (1953–54)

He does not supply the list — the defects are yours to sum up. The frame below cuts the sixteen months into the eight two-month terms his rule asks for. Write one defect at the head of each, and do not start the next until the term is out.

> The mirror of high magic is esoterically prepared in forty-eight days. The esoteric work is begun during the new moon and is concluded during the following full moon.

> OCCULT MEDICINE AND PRACTICAL MAGIC (1977–78)

Both halves of that sentence are his, and they do not agree — a new moon to the following full moon is about fifteen days, not forty-eight. Marked below are the new moons that open a working and the full moon each one runs to; the forty-eighth day is given beside it so you have both readings of his instruction.
